Mission Statement

We, the community of St Paul the Apostle, are a Maltese-Canadian personal Parish, founded on September 8, 1930, and administered by the Missionary Society of St Paul. We are a faith community reflecting the gospel values of Christ according to the teaching and tradition of the Roman Catholic Church. We serve the Maltese community, welcoming also other people from other nationalities. Our mission is to follow Christ by sharing our gifts of time, talent and treasure: by imitating Christ; and by giving witness to our faith through our everyday lives..

MASS INTENTIONS

 Second Sunday of Lent - C

Pastor's thoughts ...

"It is good for us to be here". This was Peter's spontaneous expression on Mount Tabor as he witnessed the transfiguration of Jesus. Peter, the most spontaneous of them all. Peter, the one who always spoke what came out of his heart, before processing it through his mind. It is good, it is beautiful, it is wonderful. He could not help express his desire to keep enjoying the experience, as Jesus reveals himself for who he really is.

This is faith. This is faith, at least, as it is supposed to be. How often have we thought that faith is a matter of do's and don'ts? How often have we been made to believe that faith is a burden, rather than joy? In Jesus' presence, Peter discovers that it is good, it is beautiful, it is joy.

A very short time before this experience, Jesus had told his friends that he was going to suffer passion, death, and then experience resurrection. The disciples could not understand the meaning of any of that. And yet, the little they could have understood – the passion and death bit – resurrection was something unheard of for them – they found very hard to accept. Moreover, through this experience, Jesus wanted to equip Peter, James and John for the passion-experience which was soon to follow. In his foretelling, Jesus could not speak of death without making reference to the resurrection. And his oncoming death would not have made any sense without the resurrection. It is one whole event, and in the moment of darkness the disciple of Christ has to remember that there is always light and life waiting. And yet, talk of resurrection does not in any way deny the reality of suffering.

There are always moments of darkness to be lived in our lives; moments that challenge our faith, which is often taken for granted. As I write these reflections, I share the pain of many people who, in different ways, are going through darkness and suffering. We have been living through two years of Covid, which has made millions of victims throughout the whole world. The war in Ukraine is the latest scourge we are living through. For every victim there are friends, families, pained loved ones. On a more personal level then, I constantly witness stories of people who are going through darkness in their own lives: violence, failed marriages, death in the family, unexpected illnesses, etc. It is very easy to get disheartened in moments like this. It is very normal to start asking questions and, where faith had previously seemed so solid, might now feel all very shaky.

The story of the resurrection which we are about to celebrate at the end of this Lenten season, as does today's story of Jesus' transfiguration, helps us keep things in perspective. Moses and Elijah speaking with Jesus about his "exodus" which was about to happen on another hill in Jerusalem, emphasize the fact that he really had to suffer the consequences of evil. But these stories tell us that evil does not have the last word. The voice of evil is never the loudest voice.

As we journey through our own desert during this lent, let us really listen to that voice saying: "This is my Son, listen to him!" And as we listen we start experiencing what Peter did in that short moment: it is good to be here. Let us really enjoy the beauty of his presence, of his word. Because without beauty, our soul dies.

- Fr Mario

HUMANITARIOAN RELIEF - UKRAINE

The people of Ukraine is suffering! The Archdiocese of Toronto is sending funds to the Catholic Near East Welfare Association (CNEWA), which is a papal agency currently working in Eastern Europe, providing Ukrainians with food, shelter, medicine and transportation to safe locations, as well as to the Archdiocese's Office of Refugees which helps to bring Ukrainian refugees to Canada as soon as possible. Please use the 'Humanitarian Relief' envelopes for your donations and put them with today's collection.
